

Co-Diagnostics, Inc. to Attend AACC 2017

SANDY, Utah--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Co-Diagnostics, Inc. (NASDAQ: CODX), a molecular diagnostics company with a unique, proprietary platform for the development of molecular diagnostics, will be sending Company representatives on August 2-3, 2017, to attend the 69th AACC Annual Scientific Meeting & Clinical Lab Expo in San Diego, California.

Representatives from the Company's science and marketing divisions have visits scheduled with executives of potential clients to discuss sales of Co-Diagnostics' technology and design platform in the field of molecular biology. As described on its website, AACC is a global scientific and medical professional organization dedicated to clinical laboratory science and its application to healthcare. The annual expo provides industry leaders the chance to introduce new products in the field of laboratory medicine, and opportunities to meet and build relationships with potential customers and partners.

Co-Diagnostics CEO Dwight Egan, who will be among those in attendance, commented, "We are enthusiastic about the chance to introduce the unique multiplexing capabilities of our CoPrimer™ technology in person to so many influential organizations in our sector, as well as the value that our test design platform could add to their existing operations. We would invite any other fellow attendees who have been following our progress and who might be interested in connecting during the expo to reach out at the email address at the end of this release."
